The Broadway St. bridges over the Huron River and railroad will be demolished and replaced in a construction project expected to begin in March 2003 and continue for nearly two years.

One in-bound (toward downtown) lane of traffic will be maintained at all times throughout the construction project. Out-bound traffic will be detoured via Huron Street to Glen / Fuller Road. Geddes or Washtenaw Avenue to Huron Parkway, and North Main Street to M-14 East, are also alternative means to cross the river and reach destinations north and east.

For more information visit www.broadwaybridges.org.